E-Light Newsletter

July 22, 2020

Hello PDCC Family!

It is good to be back with you! Thank you to all who helped things carry on smoothly while I was away. Going through my emails, I couldn't help but notice something. In the past, I have spent some time with an inspirational (somewhat theologically conservative) group called Catalyst. I value the dialogue with these leaders of some "big box churches". They recently sent me an email including the following quote...

"We live in a world that is full of injustice, that is full of pain. In your own nation, I don't know that there's been a more pivotal time than where we are right now, and this is not the time for the church to fall back. This is not the time for the church to pull back.

This is the time for the church to arise, for the leaders in the house of God to understand the purposes of God, to understand the plans of God, to be full of the courage of God, and to say, 'We are well able to go and take the land. We are well able to lead our people in the midst of the darkness, in the midst of the despondency, in the midst of confusion.' It is the people of God that ought to be arising." - Christine Caine

This leader was actually speaking in 2016, but they sent it out now, as it seems more relevant than ever! Referencing Dt. 1:1,2, her point is that the journey of 40 yrs for the ancient Hebrews, should've taken only 11 days. God says, "You have stayed long enough at this mountain." It's time to go into the promised land!

My friends, I know we are beset by multiple crises, and I think fatigue is beginning to set in. But let's be inspired by what Martin Luther King Jr. called the "urgency of now!" After all, "It is the people of God that ought to be arising."

This is a time for us to be willing to step outside of our ideological/theological comfort zones and listen to other perspectives. It's a time to listen deeply to the voices around us. We may have wandered in the wilderness for quite some time, but God is calling us forward.

In fact, the leadership of our church has begun an important conversation as we consider updating our mission (vision) statements. We have entered a new time, how do we feel called to respond as a faith family? It's a good time for us to not only share our own perspective, but also carefully listen to those around us. Let's prayerfully work together as we further define who we are, and who we are called to become, in this place in this time. We invite you to start thinking about these important questions now, as we formulate a process to facilitate the dialogue.

All this is to say that there is hope! There is a light at the end of the tunnel, and within each of us! Let's continue to find ways to let our light shine, as God calls us into the promised land.

Peace and Joy my friends! - Pastor Fred

President's Note

Over the past few months, we have had to make some very difficult decisions. Due to the coronavirus pandemic, we had to suspend in person worship and close our church building. This was not easy, and I know we miss seeing one another and worshipping together. Fortunately, we were able to quickly put together an online worship service. I am amazed at how fast this was accomplished. It is through the hard work of Pastor Fred, our Music Director Nathaniel and the very talented production team of Jet Vertz, Greg Blasdell, Joanne Haynes and Bob Haynes that we have such a high-quality service each week.

Currently, we are able to offer one blended service on YouTube each Sunday. I know this is not ideal. We enjoy having two services; a contemporary and a traditional one. But given the time it takes to film and edit each week, we simply don't have the resources to offer another worship service. The only way we could offer a second service is if we had more volunteers to help, especially with the editing process. If anyone is familiar with editing and would like to volunteer, please let us know.

Following our conference recommendation, the executive board voted to continue with the online service and keep our building closed through the summer. This was done out of an abundance of caution to keep the congregation safe. But as summer winds down, we are starting the discussion on how to reopen the church.

This will be a careful and unhurried process. The first thing we are doing is establishing a COVID Task Force, a small team that will include members with experience in the health care fields. This team will be working on a survey to the congregation to gain input from all members on their needs and ideas for reopening. As we progress in these steps, we will keep everyone informed by updates in the newsletter and announcements during the online worship services.

I feel very blessed to be part of such a wonderful faith community. If you have questions, ideas, or news to share, please feel free to contact me at carolvetter99@gmail.com.

Aprons in Action

While we worship remotely, be assured that the business needs of the church are still being met by the very capable team of Mary Louise McMillan and David Nelson. They come in at least twice a month to make deposits and handle the other administrative matters that arise. David handles all of the pledge record keeping and reporting, and Mary Louise keeps the bills paid as well as performing all the accounting functions for the church. We are so grateful that they volunteer their time and talents to our church.

Thank you David and Mary Louise!

An Update Regarding Confirmations

The executive board has agreed to the recommendation of the confirmation instructors to not hold confirmation this year. Below are their thoughtful considerations for why this difficult decision was made.

After having confirmation for 2 years running, 2017-2018 and 2018-2019, we skipped last year 2019-2020 as we did not have enough youth. The thought was to hold it every other year. We had planned to hold it this year, but unfortunately Covid-19 and the Pandemic landed our way.

Our first thought is from a safety standpoint. We do not know what this virus will continue to do. When PDCC does open, it will need to be under strict guidelines. We do not feel it would be safe for the kids, instructors, and mentors to interact as they would need to. We believe that a lot would be lost if we tried to do this online. High schoolers will probably end up with some type of distance learning in their schools. Adding confirmation to "online" can add to an already stressful situation with one more thing to do.

Confirmation should be a transformative experience. Building relationships with each other, their instructors, and their mentors is vital to building those connections that will help along their faith journey. Our last two confirmation classes have been very successful. We feel that the youth are better able to foster a group identity when they are able to share face to face. A lot would be lost in the translation if they were on Zoom or had to have discussions from across the room. Also in-church service opportunities, Good Friday service planning, group projects, and other mission related activities would be lost.

There really is no harm in waiting an additional year. Traditionally confirmation was offered to those in grades 10 and up. We changed it to 9th grade only to allow for more youth involvement. Waiting 1 more year will help in recruiting more potential confirmands.

It is our hope that you understand our concerns and reasons for not wanting to hold confirmation this year. Please do not hesitate to call us if you have any questions.

Blessings,
Bob Hackey & Linda Redmond, Confirmation Instructors

NOTE FROM THE GREEN TEAM

Twice the Green Team has tried to schedule a tour of the state land fill in Johnston to see how the land fill was constructed and presently used, and to observe the automated sorting of recyclables. Unfortunately, both scheduled trips have been cancelled due to the Corona Virus threat. As an alternative, I direct you to the two virtual field trips here:

Video, sorting and processing recyclables, https://youtu.be/Jda_9_30-WU and

Video, building a safe landfill, <https://youtu.be/RyhQQziYA3s>

These are well performed and give you a realistic glimpse into important aspects of recycling and waste disposal. Remember, the mission of our Green Team is to TO PROMOTE CONSERVATION AND ENVIRONMENTAL PRACTICES IN OUR CHURCH, OUR HOMES, and OUR COMMUNITIES. Even now when the church is temporarily closed, we can improve recycling practices in our homes and in our communities.
